

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XXIII.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, APRIL 12, 1895.

NO. 13

WILLIAMSBURG, WHITLEY COUNTY.

—Mr. J. S. Steeley was in Lexington last week attending the State oratorical contest.

—There are several cases of scarlet fever at the Proctor mines and there have been several deaths.

—Sheriff Burnett took A. P. Rowe to his penitentiary Sunday night. Rowe goes for seven years for bigamy.

—We had a considerable rain and hail storm Sunday and the wind blew a part of the roof from the dwelling house of N. J. Gross.

—The Christian Endeavor Societies will give a missionary rally at Congregational church. Rev. J. L. McKee, of Richmond, will be present.

—Miss Nell Freeman, who has been sick for some weeks, is improving. Mr. R. D. Hill, Judge H. F. Finley and Dr. A. Gatliff were in Frankfort this week.

—Miss Eva Edwards, of Jellico, spent Sunday with the family of Mr. J. M. Sullivan. Mr. Dudley Cole, of Virginia, is visiting Mr. H. C. King. Mr. G. C. Moore is building a new dwelling. Mr. Samuel McKeen, of Indiana, president of the Kentucky Lumber Co., is here looking after the company's interests.

—There is a new railroad being talked of now from Port Royal, S. C., to the C. S. road somewhere in this county, and the prospects are that it will soon be built, as everything seems ripe for the work. It will pass through Williamsburg and give us a competing line. The road will be 500 miles long, making direct connection with the Atlantic steamship lines and making it one of the best roads in the South.

—Prof. C. C. Cline completed his course of lectures on Romanism here Tuesday night. Prof. Cline purports to be trying to arouse the Protestant world to the dangers of Catholicism, but his lectures are more of politics than religion and we suppose the ignorant populace who know no better will drink in what he says and never make any investigation of the facts. The tirade of abuse he is trying to heap on a people many of whom are as holy as he can never injure them.

BRODHEAD, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—Mrs. W. H. Collier has just purchased her Spring millinery goods.

—Mr. A. E. Albright and his little doll will go to house-keeping this week.

—All the farmers of this neighborhood are at work this week and news is scarce.

—Mr. David Harrison and Miss Sallie Ballard were united in matrimony on last Thursday. Rev. A. J. Pike officiated.

—Mr. S. F. Jackson, of London, was in town last Monday. He was here looking after a horse that he had fallen heir to.

—Mr. James Hays, of Crab Orchard, bought of John Brown, one yoke of cattle, for which he paid 3 cents. He also bought one jack of Albert Albright and another of Tim Hamm.

—Mrs. Martha Albright has gone to Bee Line to spend a week with relatives and friends. Mr. E. King, of Gum Sulphur, came up to see his girl on Sunday last. Mrs. Ellen Warren has been in our town for a few days with Mrs. Wilmot. Miss Minnie Watson, who has been spending a few weeks with relatives and friends in Madison and Garrard counties, returned home last Saturday. Miss Lillie Wilmot went to Mt. Vernon and spent last Friday and Saturday with Mrs. Mattie Adams. Mrs. Mattie Carter and Masters David and Jack went to visit Mr. David Lewis' family last Saturday. They report Mrs. Lewis some better in health.

WILLOW GROVE.

—The Misses Wright, of Casey, who have been visiting their aunt, Mrs. Ann Gastineau, returned home last week.

—Mrs. D. C. Walker has 10 thoroughbreds in training at the Fair Grounds and will campaign several good ones this summer.

—News comes from Campbellsville that Prof. L. C. Bosley was thrown from his wheel and very painfully injured. His wounds kept him several days from his school and he is still compelled to walk on crutches.

—Free turnpikes are very frequently discussed by our farmers and if the rest of the county is like this neighborhood, Boyle county will vote almost as a unit in favor of them. The Senatorial issue has been relegated to the rear by the all absorbing issue of free turnpikes, altho' a majority of our people seem to favor McCleary for U. S. Senator. L. L.

—A beautiful woman pleases the eye, a good woman pleases the heart; one is a jewel, the other a treasure.—Napoleon I.

—John Goat, of Wyoming, Minn., has the unspeakable meanness to name one of his kids Billy and another Nannie.

A Quarter Century Test.

For a quarter of a century Dr. King's New Discovery has been tested and the millions who have received benefit from its use testify to its wonderful curative powers in all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs. A recent trial has added to the long list of those given so universal satisfaction. No experiment. Each bottle is positively guaranteed to give relief or the money will be refunded. It is admitted to be the most reliable for Coughs and Colds. Trial bottles free at A. R. Penny's drug store. Large size 50c and $1.

LONDON, LAUREL COUNTY.

—Miss Julia Boreing is visiting in Franklin, Ind.

—W. H. Thompson, of East Bernstadt, bought of R. R. Ewell the property recently vacated by John Pearl. He will begin at once improving the property and will move to it in the fall.

—It is said that the coal operators and miners will have a meeting on the 13th of this month to decide about the prices of mining for the next year. It is hoped that they will settle without a strike.

—Married—April 4th, at 9:30 o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Smith, Mr. Fred Pigg to Miss Carrie Smith. They left on the 10 o'clock train for Louisville, accompanied by Mrs. W. A. Parsley, sister of the groom.

—Judge Vincent Boreing and H. C. Thompson returned from Knox county Wednesday morning where they had been to examine some coal property belonging to Mr. Boreing and Mr. Ely. Mr. Thompson reports the coal four feet in thickness and of a very excellent quality for steam purposes.

—The republicans of Laurel held their convention at the court house Monday to select delegates to the State convention which meets in Louisville in May. The delegates were instructed for Hon. W. O. Bradley for governor, Hon. W. R. Ramsey of this place, for Attorney General. Mr. Ramsey is now Commonwealth's Attorney for this district.

OF A LOCAL NATURE.

—The county levy in Boyle was fixed at 11 cents for ordinary expenses and 31 for roads. The poll tax is $1.50.

—Nine men and one woman are to be tried for their lives at the present Circuit Court session at Barbourville.

—Miss Nettie Smith, of Louisville, who is not only an expert stenographer and typewriter, but a popular young lady and a stanch democrat, has been appointed to an office by Collector Rydes, of the Eighth district, and will go to Richmond to fill the position July 1.

—Abe and Tom Taylor, brothers of Wm. Taylor, who was hanged at Richmond, Jan. 11 for the murder of Squire Doty, were sentenced to the penitentiary for breaking into Shelby Jett's distillery at Doylesville. Abe was sentenced for three years and Tom for one year.

—Joseph A. Cohen, the well-known dealer in live stock, of Versailles, has announced his candidacy for the Legislature on a platform of free silver and free turnpikes and in favor of Senator Blackburn's re-election. Mr. Cohen used to live in this county and ought to know better than to try to stand on such a platform.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Bro. Tilford Messer will preach at Bro. Tilford Messer will preach at Coffey's school-house Sunday afternoon at the usual hour.

—Elder George Darsie is coasting along the river Nile and writing interesting letters about it to the Frankfort Capital.

—Last year the Christian Endeavor societies of the Presbyterian church in United States gave to missions $31,397.79.

—A dispatch from Harrodsburg says that Rev. Charles Davis, colored, broke all baptizing records the other day by immersing 76 converts in 29 minutes.

—Rev. A. V. Sizemore is holding a protracted meeting at Clinton, Tenn., and Rev. R. B. Mahony will fill his pulpit at the Baptist church Sunday morning.

—The success of the evangelist, Rev. B. F. Fay Mill, who is now conducting meetings at Lexington two or more times each day, has been phenomenal. From 3,000 to 4,000 people go to hear him.

—Preparations have been made for a celebration of Holy Week by Catholics in the City of Mexico, including the public washing of beggars feet, a passion play and the blowing up of Judas by gunpowder and fireworks.

—Before the New York East Conference Dr. Hunt reported that 100,000 Bibles had been distributed in China in the past four months. We fear however that the pigtails have been too busy running from the Japs to read them.

—A circuit judge at Johnstown, O., decided in a damage case brought by a negro against a saloon keeper for refusing to sell him a drink of liquor on account of his color, that a drink of whisky bought in a public place as a beverage is not necessarily such as contemplated by the law of equal rights, and there is a line of distinction between the rights of white and colored men in saloons.

—The Fiscal court of Fayette appropriated $16,000 to buy another turnpike and make it free. It is the Newtown, eight miles in length and cost $17,600. Bonds are to be issued of $1,000 each, eight to be due in five years and the remaining eight in six years, all bearing 6 per cent interest.

—Andrew Carter, an Indiana farmer, who died the other day, aged 75, had only one claim to fame. He was a native of Tennessee, and Andrew Johnson, then a tailor, but afterwards president of the United States, made his wedding suit.

KIDD'S STORE.

—Extend Chauncey Depew the sympathy of his many Frye's Creek admirers in the snub his vanity got at Conneiley Springs, N. C., a few days ago. Chauncey can console himself that a string of muscle shell pearls was cast before an appreciative (?) audience.

—The political bees are buzzing so deafeningly about the bouquets of many pensioners and patriots of this land that a season of free refreshments and open toll gates is assured, unless an anodyne is promptly administered to a few scores of the lambs that await the slaughter.

—In a late issue you would lead us credulous to think five dollars await the correct guesser of that young lady soon to be married, in stating that he is equal to that amount. How much hard work after guessing rightly will the lucky one be expected to do on the rock pile or a free turnpike?

—News of the boom in cattle has finally reached us and the stir amongst buyers and sellers in like times of the last generation. Dave Allen and Walker Lyons got in last week with a nice mixed lot of Adair county stock and John Allen and Charlie Bohon are expected soon with enough to supply all the remaining greedy buyers.

—Fishermen are contributing prodigally to turnpike revenues, but depletion of Green River is yet the bushwhacker's work. Isn't it a pretty good joke that two members of a grand jury joined a nocturnal seining party during their term of service? But the jury system is a "thing of beauty," a joy forever to the law-breaker who knows how and has the bait to catch the member of average pliancy.

—Mrs. Ben Dunn, who occupies an elevated room of the colored 400's social ladder, entertained in her elegant style at a 'festive' recently. Nature's first law, an eye to the home-larder, prompted the spread, and after the feast the greater part of the night was spent in dancing. The social features of the race problem was solved in a fraternal mingling of the Japhetic and Hamitic descendants, which would have been gratifying to the father of navigation. Coincident with the festive, little George and Crie Riffe discovered that some adventurous explorer became entangled in their buggy harness and unconsciously dragged both sets off. The solicitous will now understand why they were not in their accustomed pews the Sunday following—horses and vehicles plenty, but what good without harness?

—The every year carelessness of natives in firing the knobs was promptly celebrated in destruction of fences, as usual, first good day of Spring. A breeze of about the speed of an express train of cars, when sun and winds have dried off all combustibles to the condition of "dry as powder," is the signal for some ass to touch off his pile of brush on plant bed and the conflagration begins, possibly half a mile leeward. A smaller area has been plowed first of April, '95, than is on record in the history of farming in Kentucky. Within the past two weeks the rush has been phenomenal and most farmers are well up with their work. Very few are puzzled to dispose of the surplus provender; they find on hand after one of the best winters for feeding we ever had. Jowls and greens, onions and asparagus are measurably filling the critical interval between the exhaustion of stored garden truck and beets, lettuce, radishes and peas big enough to eat. We who live to eat still have much to be thankful for.

—Newspaper fellows are usually wonderfully clannish and generally having the last tag, are as generally a little aggressive, if not dogmatic, but just in this connection we voters at confluence of Carpenter and Frye's creeks would like to know what's the matter with the old pioneer that Ion B. Nall gets all the boosting for commissioner of agriculture? Sam Boone is socially, morally and intellectually right in the van of the press gang, is a democrat since the days of his grandfather Daniel, Davy Crockett and Andy Jackson; knows the difference between a stalk of corn and a pumpking vine; doesn't wait for the dark of the moon to plant his potatoes; smokes a cob pipe, and I want you to spread over Kentucky to your hundred thousand and subscribers and readers that since Hon. Nich. McDowell has declined to run, that this precinct is solid for Sam Boone, knowing that he will honor the position and that the faithful should receive their reward, especially when not afflicted with redundant financial cares.

—You will please pardon my second and last attempt to write on this subject. As it appears to me every fair minded man can see the folly of such a thing as a free turnpike. I sincerely trust that the democracy of Lincoln county at least, will not so far forget itself as to pledge its faith to a candidate for representative, who advocates such an idiotic idea.

—I am still laboring under the dire necessity of paying more taxes consequent on a tax-payer from compulsion, a democrat from choice.

—J. T. Funk, of Louisville, was unanimously chosen Grand Dictator of the Kentucky Knights of Honor, and after a spirited contest. Judge W. H. Yost, Judge W. B. Fleming and W. E. Bell were elected supreme representatives. A monument to the memory of J. A. Demaree, the founder of the order, was unveiled at Cave Hill with impressive ceremonies.

—A district judge at Cedar Rapids, Ia., has decided that the Iowa law allowing women to vote in school elections and on tax levies is unconstitutional.

M. F. NORTH.
It May Do as Much for You.

Mr. Fred Miller of Irving, Ill., writes that he has a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pain in the back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so called kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure all kidney trouble. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by A. R. Penny, Stanford, Ky.

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—Great interest is evinced in the Macabane lodge here.

—The next subject to be debated at the Institute is Grant vs. Lee.

—You hear less about hard times here than in any town in Kentucky.

—WANTED.—A brick molder. Apply at once to Mt. Vernon Lime Co.

—Our new merchant says this is the best market for eggs he has ever seen.

—The musical club is preparing an entertainment to be given at the courthouse soon.

—Owing to the press of business at the depot this week, Mrs. Nesbitt sends report instead of your regular reporter.

—The large attendance at last meeting of the Aid Society was most encouraging. The next meeting will be with Mrs. C. C. Williams.

—The inspectors' train found Mr. Jas. Maret, the efficient agent of the L. & N., at his post as usual, attending strictly to the business of the company which he represents. For 18 years he has occupied this office, refusing promotion.

—Mrs. George Wereshold has been very ill. Mrs. Matt. Deborde is recovering from a serious illness. Miss Nancy Kennedy, accompanied by Master Cecil Williams, are visiting friends in Crab Orchard. Miss Carrie Lair was the guest of Miss Mollie Baker this week. Miss Eva Martin is attending school at the Institute.

—The suburban home of Mr. M. P. Newcomb is surrounded by everything that makes life worth living. Orchards of choicest fruit have been carefully planted, grape arbors, strawberry beds, etc., all carefully tended, will yield a rich return for the care expended. The good example could be profitably followed by many of our people.

—Editor Smith interviewed a number of our citizens on the graded school question. We think the reply of Mr. Jas. I. White was one of the best answers given. He said: "We need the graded school in order to have better men and better women." There is a whole sermon conveyed in these words. Education elevates the mind. By developing the higher faculties of the intellect the baser propensities are kept in subjection.

After the Pennsylvania Drummer With a Sharp Stick.

To the Editor of the Interior Journal.

I notice an article signed "Drummer" on the much talked of turnpike question. I was somewhat amused and utterly disgusted with the suggestions or arguments (if such they can be called) in favor of free turnpikes. In fact his reasoning is conducive to my mind that the great bugbear of toll gates should be retained to catch just such fellows as he. He says he has traveled from Maine to California and never saw a toll-gate until he came down in poor old retrograded Kentucky. Doubtless in his mid night dreams he imagines a toll gate pole being pulled down on him. It would be exceedingly gracious in retrograded Kentucky to make nice driving roads for the Pennsylvania drummer to glide swiftly and pleasantly over, while introducing his special line of tinware, crockery or perhaps a much more useful and needed article of bird seed! And maybe in the near future retrograded Kentucky will furnish a palace car and possibly a buffered sleep for the indispensable commercial traveler from Pennsylvania, but if so dire a calamity should ever befall retrograded Kentucky to be afflicted with such a traveler, may the Lord intervene in some mysterious way to relieve her of so onerous and so grievous a burden and send him back to Pennsylvania (or to God's country as he doubtless believes it to be) and there let him travel from the Alleghanies to the lone slasher to his heart's content.

You will please pardon my second and last attempt to write on this subject. As it appears to me every fair minded man can see the folly of such a thing as a free turnpike. I sincerely trust that the democracy of Lincoln county at least, will not so far forget itself as to pledge its faith to a candidate for representative, who advocates such an idiotic idea.

I am still laboring under the dire necessity of paying more taxes consequent on a tax-payer from compulsion, a democrat from choice.

—J. T. Funk, of Louisville, was unanimously chosen Grand Dictator of the Kentucky Knights of Honor, and after a spirited contest. Judge W. H. Yost, Judge W. B. Fleming and W. E. Bell were elected supreme representatives. A monument to the memory of J. A. Demaree, the founder of the order, was unveiled at Cave Hill with impressive ceremonies.

—A district judge at Cedar Rapids, Ia., has decided that the Iowa law allowing women to vote in school elections and on tax levies is unconstitutional.

Bucklin's Arnica Salve.
The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, ulcers, salt rheum, fever and teeter, chapped hands, etc. and all skin eruptions. It is positively cure piles, or any skin eruptions. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by A. R. Penny, Stanford, Ky.

St. Asaph Carriage Co.,

STANFORD, KENTUCKY,

MERSHON & GREER, Proprietors.

W. P. WALTON.

6 OR 8 PAGES.
EVERY FRIDAY.

ANOTHER unprovoked murder darkens the black record of Lexington this week. William Shipp, son of the banker at Midway, killed a negro named Sam Brown at Lexington this week in a row over the latter's wife. Shipp will be remembered by those who read such things, as the wild and wayward youth who was converted about a year ago. The alleged conversion came on him in the night time and about midnight, he awakened his father and told him he wanted to be baptized right away. The family got up, roused the preacher and the young man was doused amid great rejoicing. His sins were scarlet, but they were not made white as snow, for he continued to drink at intervals and make a nuisance of himself. He took his mother to the Mills meeting at Lexington this week and then went off on a tear, winding up with murder. He escaped arrest, but will of course be caught and if justice can be kept blind folded to the fact that his victim was a negro, he may yet have his worthless neck stretch ed.

As foretold the supreme court knocked a big hole in the income tax law by deciding that the taxation of rents, State, county and municipal bonds is a direct tax and unconstitutional. On the other provisions of the law the court is equally divided as to its validity and it will therefore remain in force. Chief Justice Fuller and Justices Harlan and White voted to sustain the law in its entirety. Justice Jackson was absent as usual. Attorneys are already preparing to attack those portions of the law sustained by a tie vote and they feel assured that they can further render it nugatory. There will be a big deficit in the treasury by reason of the decision, but President Cleveland says he will not call an extra session of Congress, for which assurance let us give thanks.

THE Rev. Isaac J. Lansing, of Boston, is another clerical cuse, who sought to gain a little notoriety by defaming his betters. He stated publicly that President Cleveland was so intoxicated at a New York dinner that he made a fool of himself. It was a lie manufactured out of whole cloth and it coming to the ears of the president, he called his defamer down, and as the Louisville Times says he came down. The preacher didn't seem to have profited by the Scriptural injunction to bridle his tongue, but the lesson he has been taught will impress the precept very lastingly upon his mind.

COL. BLANTON DUNCAN, the Louisville blatherskite, who is at present sojourning in California, sued the Los Angeles Times for $25,000 for calling him an "erratic blowhard," but the editor was able to prove he had not misnamed him and won the suit. Then the editor let loose and such another skinning mortal man never got before. There is now nothing left for old Blant to do, but kill the editor or himself, and his friends in Kentucky hope he will choose the latter horn of the dilemma.

GEN. THOMAS A. HARRIS, a hero in two wars, the Mexican and Civil, and a useful man in peace, died Tuesday, aged 65. He served a term in the Confederate Congress from Missouri and after the war edited the New Orleans Times-Democrat. When Gov. Buckner, who was a schoolmate of his at West Point, was inaugurated governor of Kentucky, he made Gen. Harris his assistant secretary of State, which office he filled very acceptably. A wife and one son survives the general.

THINGS seem to be getting pretty unanimous for Col. Bradley, when John H. Wilson's county of Knox instructs for him for governor and Laurel does the same, though Editor Dyche, possibly would have had it otherwise, if he could. Both counties instructed for J. G. Creech, of Laurel, for commissioner of agriculture, while the latter instructed for Hon. W. R. Ramsey for attorney general and Sam Stone, of Madison, for auditor.

THE Massachusetts Legislature sees them all on the Sunday laws and goes them one better. Not only does it provide for punishing anyone who engages in a Sunday performance, but those who attend it must pay a fine on conviction. That's getting at the root of the matter, and is the right way to proceed. If there were no people to attend Sunday shows of course there would be no exhibitions on the Lord's day.

DEATH has done what the democrats failed to do—given Delaware a democrat in executive. Gov. Marvil, the republican elected last November, is dead and Speaker of the Senate Watson, who is a democrat, succeeds to the office. It is almost as rare for a republican to die in office as it is for him to resign one, but sometimes the unexpected happens.

THE Southern Magazine will hereafter be known as the "Mid-Continent," a change for the worst and not for the better.

SENATOR BLACKBURN fired the opening gun of his campaign at Shelbyville Monday and rehashed his old free silver views at length and ad nauseam. Gov. McCleary will now have to fill his promise to go for him. He says "I am cocked and primed to meet any man on that question. I have made it a study for 10 years in Congress, was a member of the International Monetary Conference at Brussels, and I think I know what I am talking about." Now let our good Macduff lay on and d-n be he who first cries "Hold enough!"

EDWARD KNOTT, of the Louisville Post, is printing "A Currency Catechism" in his Louisville Post in answer to "Coin's Financial School," which knocks the socks, so to speak, off the young pretender. It is hoped that the editor will print the catechism in pamphlet form, at a nominal price, so as to counteract the evil that Coin has done with unthinking people.

NEWSY NOTES.

Berry is said to be making a still hunt for governor.

In Cincinnati 8,500 coat makers have gone out on a strike.

Cholera is reported to have broken out among the Japanese troops at the Pescadores Islands.

Mrs. Eugene Aldrich, of Waterloo, Ind., was frightened to death by her horse running away.

Twenty-one men were killed by an explosion of gas in a coal mine near New Whatcom, Wash.

Loch Payne killed his brother William, near Owensboro, in a quarrel over the possession of a hen.

A compulsory vaccination order was made by the fiscal court of Bourbon, in view of the proximity to the disease.

A boy and girl while searching for wild flowers in a Philadelphia park were struck by lightning and instantly killed.

The governor of Arkansas, who drew a pistol on the member of the legislature, who spat in his face, was fined $50.

Railroad travel in Colorado was completely blockaded by sand drifts, resulting from the severe storm last Friday.

A grain elevator fire in St. Louis caused a loss of from $75,000 to $100,000. The watchman is supposed to have perished.

By the collapse of a four-story brick wall at Wheeling, W. Va., five people were killed and two perhaps fatally injured.

A Japanese man-of-war seized a British steamer loaded with cartridges which had been shipped as "bamboo and steel."

Two members of Peter Huntz' family at Virginia, Ill., have died and three others are dangerously ill from eating diseased beef.

Ninety per cent. of the Nebraska towns have voted for liquor. Last year, it will be remembered, was exceedingly dry in Nebraska.

Mrs. Mary L. Orinscz, of Leavenworth, Kansas, has sued W. J. Cruse for $5,000 damages on account of his dog killing her pet cat.

Railroad Bill, the Alabama desperado, fired into a posse that came upon him, killed instantly one of the men and made his escape.

A young woman has confessed at Anderson, Ind., that she murdered a man, for which crime another man is serving 13 years in the penitentiary.

Charles Brown was sentenced to 20 years in the penitentiary at Lexington for a criminal assault on his 8 year old step-sister. Five of the jury were for hanging.

The president has again appointed F. W. Joplin to be postmaster at Elizabethtown, vice Mrs. Emily Helm. The Senate refused to confirm the nomination before.

The Interstate Commerce Commission has temporarily annulled the long and short-haul clause to allow the Southern Railway Company to fight the Seaboard Air Line.

Ex-Gov. James L. Kemper, of Virginia, died at his home near Gordonsville, aged 72 years. He was a brigade commander in the Confederate army during the late war.

The Rock Island tracks in Colorado have at last been cleared, and the snow-drift-blockaded passengers rescued. The storm was the worst of recent years, and the loss of live stock is heavy.

The Dutch humbug, Jacob Sweenifurth, the Rockford, Ills., "Messiah," is being sued by a husband for $50,000 for alienating the affections of his wife, who entered Sweenifurth's "Heaven."

Jacob Schuette, a dairy man near Pittsburgh, Pa., shot himself to death because he feared the little borough he lived in would be annexed to the city and he would have to give up his cows.

The loss of live stock in Colorado owing to the snowstorm is from $40,000 to $80,000. Dead horses, cattle and sheep are piled up against fences, and hundreds are found on the open prairie.

The Baltimore Manufacturers' Record shows that 42 cotton-mills have been established in the South during the last three months. The Eastern manufacturers see the hand writing on the wall.

Treasury officials estimate that receipts from the income tax will be cut down at least 50 per cent. in consequence of the ruling out of incomes from rents and from State, county and municipal bonds.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

John Allen, of Washington C. H., O., committed suicide because his girl refused to go to church with him.

It is said that the marriage of Lord William Beresford to the widowed Duchess of Marlborough, formerly Mrs. Louise Hammersley, of New York will take place shortly.

Isaac Johnson, of Rockcastle, and Miss Dolly Jane Sprinkles, a pretty maiden of 16 summers, were married at the bride's father's, Mr. J. W. Sprinkles, in this county Wednesday.

A St. Louis woman is trying to procure a divorce from her husband on the ground that he is "addicted to the suicide habit." If she will bide a wee, perhaps he will save her from going to court by killing himself sure enough.

Next year will be the last leap year of the century, and another will not occur until 1904. The year 1900 will not be a leap year. The unusual occurrence is due to the fact that the addition of one day to each fourth year more than makes up the presumed deficiency in the calendar year. So young ladies you will have no chance after next year for eight long weary ones, to do unto men as you would have them do unto you.

Mr. Edgar M. Nevius, second son of Mrs. Mattie Nevius, went to Lebanon Wednesday and returned that afternoon with a bonnie bride, who was Miss Sallie Sparrow. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Godbey, of the Methodist church, and the couple left at once for this place, and are now at Mrs. Nevius, though they will go to house-keeping soon in a pretty cottage in the Miller Addition. Mr. Nevius is a salesman at the Louisville Store and has won the confidence of his employers. His bride is petite and pretty and said to be a very lovable young lady. We hope they will never have cause to regret the step they took so early in life, but live and love to a ripe old age.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

Good cattle are scarce in this county at 4 to 4½.

Poland China boars for sale. M. S. Bangham, Stanford.

Only 27 stallions were showed at Lexington Monday against 100 some years ago.

W. M. Lackey bought of J. C. Hays, of the East End, a bunch of 1,000 lb. cattle at 3½c.

W. H. Traylor sold to Montie Fox, for Goldsmith, 64 export cattle for July delivery at 5c.

Charlie Dawes sold to T. L. Lillard, of Boyle, a small bunch of three-year-old cattle at 4½c.

S. M. Owens lost a valuable brood mare while foaling the other day. He was fortunate enough to save the colt.

At the public sale of Poland-China swine held at Lewis, Ia., a short time ago by Scarf Bros., 31 head averaged $25.67.

E. P. Woods shipped to Cincinnati yesterday a car load of 175-pound hogs bought of J. G. Lynn, S. T. Harris and others at 3½c.

Capt. T. A. Elkin has placed his stallion, Directed, by Director, in the hands of P. W. Ray, of Glasgow, who will make the season with him.

M. S. Baughman will stand his well-known stallion, George Dictator, at $10 and his fine jack at $8 this year. Their pedigrees will appear in our next issue.

We will stand our splendid Clydesdale stallion, Jesse D. Wearen, at our place on the Hustonville pike, at $5 to insure a living colt. Persons desiring draft horses should breed to him. Beasley Bros.

What does the man in the moon know about potato planting anyway?

The most important thing is to have the ground in good condition, then select good seed, give them thorough cultivation and trust to Providence—George town Times.

Faulconer & Rue think that their combination sale at Danville, Thursday and Friday, April 25 and 26, will be the greatest in their history. They have 125 horses booked and among them are some splendid roadsters, New York saddle horses and teams.

Wanted, 100,000 pounds of wool.

Highest market price guaranteed. Before you sell, see my agents T. S. Elkin,

Lancaster, J. S. Moberly, McKinney,

Wm. Rout, Hustonville, Wallace Steele,

Rolling Fork or myself at Stanford. William Moreland.

The much talked of Sporting League was organized at Cleveland; with Maj. P. P. Johnson, of Lexington, at its head as president. It is to be called the American League, and its object is to protect the manly sports and the business interests connected with them.

The INTERIOR JOURNAL hasn't as many horse advertisements as it usually has at this season of the year, but those horses whose pedigrees are found in its columns are mighty good ones and breeders should study them well before they decide what they will breed to.

Meat is dearer to-day in New York than it has been for 23 years. Three weeks ago porter-house steak retailed at from 22 cents to 25 cents a pound, and sirloin at from 16 to 18 cents. To-day the consumer must pay for similar cuts of porter-house 30 to 35 cents a pound and for sirloin 22 to 24 cents a pound.

This will be good news to the farmer, who high time had his winnings.

The Baltimore Manufacturers' Record shows that 42 cotton-mills have been established in the South during the last three months. The Eastern manufacturers see the hand writing on the wall.

Treasury officials estimate that receipts from the income tax will be cut down at least 50 per cent. in consequence of the ruling out of incomes from rents and from State, county and municipal bonds.

Treasury officials estimate that receipts from the income tax will be cut down at least 50 per cent. in consequence of the ruling out of incomes from rents and from State, county and municipal bonds.

Treasury officials estimate that receipts from the income tax will be cut down at least 50 per cent. in consequence of the ruling out of incomes from rents and from State, county and municipal bonds.

Treasury officials estimate that receipts from the income tax will be cut down at least 50 per cent. in consequence of the ruling out of incomes from rents and from State, county and municipal bonds.

Treasury officials estimate that receipts from the income tax will be cut down at least 50 per cent. in consequence of the ruling out of incomes from rents and from State, county and municipal bonds.

Treasury officials estimate that receipts from the income tax will be cut down at least 50 per cent. in consequence of the ruling out of incomes from rents and from State, county and municipal bonds.

Treasury officials estimate that receipts from the income tax will be cut down at least 50 per cent. in consequence of the ruling out of incomes from rents and from State, county and municipal bonds.

Treasury officials estimate that receipts from the income tax will be cut down at least 50 per cent. in consequence of the ruling out of incomes from rents and from State, county and municipal bonds.

Treasury officials estimate that receipts from the income tax will be cut down at least 50 per cent. in consequence of the ruling out of incomes from rents and from State, county and municipal bonds.

Treasury officials estimate that receipts from the income tax will be cut down at least 50 per cent. in consequence of the ruling out of incomes from rents and from State, county and municipal bonds.

Treasury officials estimate that receipts from the income tax will be cut down at least 50 per cent. in consequence of the ruling out of incomes from rents and from State, county and municipal bonds.

Treasury officials estimate that receipts from the income tax will be cut down at least 50 per cent. in consequence of the ruling out of incomes from rents and from State, county and municipal bonds.

Treasury officials estimate that receipts from the income tax will be cut down at least 50 per cent. in consequence of the ruling out of incomes from rents and from State, county and municipal bonds.

Treasury officials estimate that receipts from the income tax will be cut down at least 50 per cent. in consequence of the ruling out of incomes from rents and from State, county and municipal bonds.

Treasury officials estimate that receipts from the income tax will be cut down at least 50 per cent. in consequence of the ruling out of incomes from rents and from State, county and municipal bonds.

Treasury officials estimate that receipts from the income tax will be cut down at least 50 per cent. in consequence of the ruling out of incomes from rents and from State, county and municipal bonds.

Treasury officials estimate that receipts from the income tax will be cut down at least 50 per cent. in consequence of the ruling out of incomes from rents and from State, county and municipal bonds.

Treasury officials estimate that receipts from the income tax will be cut down at least 50 per cent. in consequence of the ruling out of incomes from rents and from State, county and municipal bonds.

Treasury officials estimate that receipts from the income tax will be cut down at least 50 per cent. in consequence of the ruling out of incomes from rents and from State, county and municipal bonds.

Treasury officials estimate that receipts from the income tax will be cut down at least 50 per cent. in consequence of the ruling out of incomes from rents and from State, county and municipal bonds.

Treasury officials estimate that receipts from the income tax will be cut down at least 50 per cent. in consequence of the ruling out of incomes from rents and from State, county and municipal bonds.

Treasury officials estimate that receipts from the income tax will be cut down at least 50 per cent. in consequence of the ruling out of incomes from rents and from State, county and municipal bonds.

Treasury officials estimate that receipts from the income tax will be cut down at least 50 per cent. in consequence of the ruling out of incomes from rents and from State, county and municipal bonds.

Treasury officials estimate that receipts from the income tax will be cut down at least 50 per cent. in consequence of the ruling out of incomes from rents and from State, county and municipal bonds.

</

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., - APRIL 12 1895

W. P. WALTON.

Articles of Incorporation

OF DIADEM LODGE NO. 81,

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS OF KENTUCKY.

We, I. M. Bruce, A. G. Huffman, W. H. Warren, W. F. Sheridan, John F. Waters, Jno. F. Wells, E. C. Walton, J. S. Wells, and others, do hereby and for ever incorporate and create ourselves, our associates and successors a body corporate, with power of perpetual succession, to sue and be sued, plead and be impleaded, contract and be contracted with, have a corporate seal, and make, alter or amend the same, and to do all acts and things necessary to be done by a corporation, to be known as the Knights of Pythias of Kentucky, to be known as the Knights of Pythias of Kentucky, and its principal place of business shall be Stanford, Lincoln county, Kentucky. Its business shall be the exercise of such Fraternal, Benevolent and Charitable as is provided for in the declaration of the principles of the Order of Knights of Pythias.

It shall begin from this day and shall continue twenty-five years, or as long as it has seven men in good standing in the Order of Knights of Pythias of Kentucky.

No capital stock is required to commence its business and its capital stock there shall be its accumulation of revenues and any contributions which may be made and the accumulation of profits of the same and such stocks or funds shall be levied from time to time as may be directed by resolution of the corporation.

Its officers shall be the Chancellor, Commander, Vice-Chancellor, Prelate and Master at Arms, who shall be elected annually, the Secretary, Recording, and Auditor, and the Keeper of Records and Seals, Master of Finance and Master of Exchequer, who shall be elected annually by ballot in the last meeting in November, and such other officers as are provided for by the Constitution and By-Laws of the Knights of Pythias of Kentucky.

The debts of the corporation shall never at any time exceed two thousand five hundred dollars, and the property of its individual members shall not be liable for its corporate debts.

Articles of this incorporation shall be valid only when in writing, signed by the Chancellor Commander and the Keeper of Records and Seals, with its corporate seal attached.

Given under our hand this 13th day of March, 1895.

I. M. BRUCE,
A. G. HUFFMAN,
W. H. WEARN,
W. F. SHERIDAN,
JOE F. WATERS,
JOHN F. WELLS, C. C.,
E. C. WALTON,
J. S. OWLESLEY,
JESSE D. WEARN, K. R. & S.

State of Kentucky, Sct.

I, James Jackson, Clerk of the Lincoln County Court, do certify that the foregoing articles of incorporation were, the 15th day of March, 1895, acknowledged before me by I. M. Bruce, A. G. Huffman, Joe F. Waters, W. H. Warren, E. C. Walton and John F. Wells, to be the true and correct copy of the original articles of incorporation on the 16th day of March, 1895, by W. F. Sheridan to be his act and deed before J. H. Burton my deputy, as shown by his endorsement thereon in figures and words as follows, to-wit: "On the 16th, 1895, acknowledged before me by W. F. Sheridan to be his act and deed, J. H. Burton, Clerk, by J. H. Burton, D. C. And the same - as again this day acknowledged before me by J. S. Owlesley, to be his act and deed, and lodged for record whereupon I have recorded the same and this certificate in my office." Witness my hand this 15th day of March, 1895.

JAS. F. CUMMINS, Clerk,
By J. H. Burton, DC.

Ky. Midland R'y,

Only Direct Line Between

Cincinnati and Frankfort

Shortest and quickest between
Frankfort, Georgetown and Paris,
Carlisle, Maysville, Cynthiana,
Falmouth and Covington.

Ask for tickets via Kentucky Midland. Trains run on Central Standard Time.

Time Table Dec. 30, 1894.

TRAIN EAST. No. 1. No. 3. No. 5. N. 7.
P. m. 8:30 a. m. 10:30 a. m. 12:30 p. m.
Lvs Frankfort A 7:00 8:30 10:30 12:30
" Elkhorn... 7:11 8:49 9:55 11:40
" Stamping ground 7:08 3:00 9:30 11:45
" Georgetown... B 7:47 3:10 10:00 12:45
" C. S. Depot... 7:55 3:33 10:05 12:45
Arr. " Paris... C 8:30 4:30 10:05 12:45

TRAIN WEST. No. 2. No. 4. No. 6. No. 8.
P. m. 10:30 a. m. 12:30 p. m. 2:30 p. m.
Lvs Paris... C 9:45 11:30 1:30 3:45
" C. S. Depot... 10:37 6:45 12:30
" Elkhorn... 7:11 8:49 9:55 11:40
" Georgetown B 10:40 6:45 5:45 12:45
" Stamping ground 10:59 7:03 6:17 1:45
" Elkhorn... 11:16 7:20 6:45 1:45
Arr. " Frankfort A... 11:30 7:35 7:15 12:45

Leave Frankfort 8:30 a. m.; arrive at Lexington 10:45 a. m.

Leave Frankfort 8: a. m.; arrive Cincinnati at 10:20 a. m.

Leave Frankfort 12:30 p. m.; arrive Cincinnati 8:30 p. m.

SUNDAY TRAINS.

West—Leave Georgetown 10:37 A. M.; arrive at Frankfort 11:30 A. M.; arrive at East—Leave Frankfort 12:30 P. M.; arrive at Georgetown 1:30 P. M.

Leave Frankfort 2:30 p. m.; arrive Cincinnati 6:35 p. m.

Leave Cincinnati 7:30 a. m.; arrive Frankfort 11:30 a. m.

The Kentucky Midland Railway and connections form the shortest and cheapest route to all points South, East, North and West. For further information apply to their agents.

C. D. BERCAW, Gen. Pass. Agent.

GEO. B. HARPER, Rec'r & Gen. Sup't

Frankfort, Ky.

IF YOU ARE GOING.....

NORTH OR WEST.

.....THE.....

Is the line for you, as its

Double Daily Trains

Make close connections at

LOUISVILLE And CINCINNATI

For all points.

THROUGH TICKETS SOLD.

BAGGAGE CHECKED THROUGH

For any information apply to

JOE S. RICE, Agent,

Stanford, Ky.

THE WEEKLY COURIER-JOURNAL

Is a ten page eight column democratic newspaper.

It contains the best of everything going. HENRY WATTERSON is the editor.

PRICE, $1 00 A YEAR.

The WEEKLY COURIER JOURNAL makes very liberal terms to agent, and gives free premiums for clubs. Sample copies of the paper and four page Premium Supplement sent free to any address. Write to

The COURIER-JOURNAL CO.

LOUISVILLE, KY.

The

Semi-Weekly Interior Journal

And The

Weekly Courier-Journal

Will be sent one year to any address for $2 75.

Address W. P. WALTON.

BREAKING COLTS.

Consensus of Valuable Opinion From Experienced Breeders.

From the correspondence of The Rural New Yorker we extract the following notes on the training of colts:

One breeder says: Colts handled much, and especially pets, are very likely to develop disagreeable tricks. They don't fear or much respect their masters. The theory is perhaps good. The practice will not bear it out. I have had sad experience in this line. One very intelligent colt was so loved and petted that she became a marvel. She would follow me into the house or up stairs. How much we expected of her! She was never "broke," but just latched up and used when the time came. No trouble for some time. Then one day she became disgusted with doing as I liked instead of as she liked. She kicked herself loose in short order. She was not excited or angry. I was. She remained the same roguish, demure creature, was good as pie for some days, then sulked again, kicked a $30 cart to pieces and went to eating grass by the roadside. We conquered her habit, but it was harder than to have broken a wild colt. Be gentle to your colts by all means. Halter break when a few days old. But don't let the boys fool with them and never make much of a pet of a colt before it is broken.

Another writes: When the colt is 2 or 3 months old, or perhaps younger, if able to travel without injuring itself, it should, when the mare is at work in the field, be hitched to the hames by a halter or bridle. Later on, when it has learned the meaning of "Get up!" and "Whoa!" it should have a small collar and hames or breast collar harness, the tugs of which may be tied up out of the way, or a very light weight attached.

When I was a boy, I made a harness that answered my purpose very well by sewing some old harness tugs together, making the breast collar and tugs all one piece, and then sewing the back strap to the tugs at either side. I broke my colt in this rude harness, and many a pleasant ride did I take on my hand sled in winter drawn by my favorite gray. In either of the ways mentioned great care should be taken not to over-tighten the strength of the colt. In addition to the above methods a "bitting harness" may be used if desired. If I were breaking a colt especially for driving, I would break him with a bitting harness only.

Thus a third: I have made a point of feeding the least amount of food to keep my horse in good working condition. My common feed has been corn two parts, oats two parts and one part of rye or wheat, all ground together, and one part of this with one or two parts of bran. I am very partial to clover hay when well cured, feeding as small an amount as will keep them in good condition with the work they are doing. I believe in horses earning their living. I never turn my horses to pasture, as they get soft, and it takes a long time to get back to working condition. In lieu of pasture I rely on carrots, feeding them very sparingly through the winter, but about the 1st of March I feed about all they will eat until May or as long as the carrots will keep well. I have a span of colts 18 and 30 months old. Both were broken to the halter before they were a week old and have been handled ever since until at present they drive nicely. We handle them only enough to keep them waywise. Neither has been out to pasture, but both have been fed on the above plan. They weigh respectively 730 and 950 pounds. They have a yard run.

Live Stock Points.

At the Chicago stockyards 3,090,000 sheep were slaughtered and sold during 1894. This was 50,000 more than were consumed in 1893. Normally the number would not have been larger than during the World's fair year. The increase shows that many farmers are going out of the sheep business because of free wool.

British cavalry regulations require the saddle to be placed in the middle of the back, "about the breadth of the hand behind the play of the shoulder."

The record breaking year for the Chicago pork market was 1891, when 8,600,805 were sold and sold during 1894. This was 50,000 more than were sold in 1893. The poorest of recent years was 1893. For 1894 the record rose again, and the number was about 7,500,000. But the price was lower, being $1.55 a hundred less than in 1893. The average price for grown hogs in 1894 was $5.05 per hundred.

It is a mistake to quit raising sheep because the tariff has been taken off wool. Mutton sheep were never in so good demand as they are now, and the taste for a good article is growing. With tender, mild flavored mutton as the first object, and with steadily working up to that object by improving the meat in all ways, breeders can still make the sheep business pay well. Wool will be merely an incidental for the present.

Prices of both mutton sheep and spring lambs were considerably lower in 1894 than in 1893.

A horse trainer's reputation is his wealth, and it will increase most rapidly when he is perfectly honest and square. The point is not how many horses he can train, but how many of his training can win.

Breed for size and speed in the American road horse. There is no better in the world.

Shropshires and Oxford Down sheep have wool growing well down on the legs, while the Southdowns have smooth, hairy legs.

There is many a time good work for farm horses in winter, if their owners will just huddle around and find it either at home or in neighboring towns.

Tennessee stock raisers says that he feeds sorghum fodder heavily to mutton horses and cattle. For his milk cows he cuts it up. He also grinds corn on the cob for these cows and feeds them besides beets, turnips and carrots. This secures variety. A few acres of the root crops answer the purpose. He says that on this diet his dairy cows do just as well as they did when he fed them bran and cottonseed meal, which cost twice as much.

At a recent sale of high class carriage horses in Chicago a pair of bay geldings 16 hands high, 5 years old, brought $1,700. They weighed together 2,300 pounds. This shows it still pays to breed fancy carriage horses.

HEAVY CARRIAGE HORSES.

Demand For Those of Good Shape and High Action.

The heavy harness horse should fit the heavy vehicle just as the light harness horse fits the light wheeled road wagon or piano box buggy. The tendency of American carriage building has been to lightness of construction. This is seen in the piano box side bar, the phaeton, the surrey and many other vehicles of light weight. Such a vehicle demands a horse to suit it—a light framed, rangy, stylish horse, nimble and even swift of foot, with flowing mane and tail. English wagon makers run to the opposite extreme. They put the "stuff" in their vehicles. The high and heavy two wheel carts are popular, the mail phaeton and an almost unnumbered variety of traps of somewhat similar design are much driven, while the tendency toward the heavy equipage finds this climax in the mailcoach designed for four horses. Obviously the horse that is suited to the skeletonlike American road rig is not adapted to the heavy wheeled traps of English pattern. Hence we may logically divide harness horses into two types—the light and the heavy, each with its distinctive place.

The heavy traps are largely used for city and park driving, but in the east where hard roads lead from cities to suburbs no little amount of road riding in dogcart, break or coach is done. For the most part the men who breed the harness horses—the farmers of the central west—are not familiar with the sort of vehicle which must be hored for the city, and hence are at sea as to the type of horse to breed.

Trotting sires have been largely patronized, with the result that light and rangy horses, with low action, lacking size and substance and in many cases wanting beauty of conformation, have been put on the market. Most of these horses can step along at a good pace, but even those who indulge in road riding are coming to demand shapeliness as well as speed in their horses. The horse breeding districts of the west have been sought to find horses of suitable size, substance and action to go into high priced leather on city streets with broughams, landaus, carts, breaks and coaches behind them. It is needless to say that comparatively few of them are found which are up to the standard.

It is this demand for a heavier horse, a shapelier horse and a horse of higher action than we have been producing from our trotters that leads to the importation of the continental breeds of coachmen and the Cleveland bay and the hackney. Heavy carriages demand heavy horses. It needs but a sight of a modern rubber tired brougham to show the horse breeder that the horse which is well adapted to the phaeton or even the surrey will not do in the shafts or at the pole of a vehicle of such weight. There must be more bone, a larger frame, a heavier body, but all without coarseness. And then the flying, extended trot of the light road horse must be replaced either with the stately, dwelling stride of the coach horse or the quick, high action of the hackney. An understanding of what the market demands will help to put the breeder on the right track and will show the trotting horse advocate, if he be amenable to reason, that he cannot fill the bill with the horse which has so long been popular with the American public in breast strap harness to light vehicles.

Breeder's Gazette.

Making Pigs Fat.

I fattened two pigs that were bought Nov. 9, 1893. Their ages then were between 2 and 3 months. They were fed the heads of clover hay that broke off as it fell from the mow mixed with No. 1 chop feed—2 quarts clover heads and 1 1/4 quarts of chop feed. The clover was soaked in boiling water and then the chop feed added. This was fed twice a day, with a very little skimmed milk, for a month. Then I added one quart of bran and a little ear corn for another month, when I added about ten ears of corn daily for six weeks. From this time they were fed the clover and chop feed on the right track and will show the trotting horse advocate, if he be amenable to reason, that he cannot fill the bill with the horse which has so long been popular with the American public in breast strap harness to light vehicles.

The above stallions will make the season of 1895 at my stable 1 mile from Stanford on the Hustonville pike at

$5 to Insure a Colt 4 Months Old

Mares kept at reasonable rates.

to JOSIAH BISHOP, Shelby City, Ky.

At $15 to Insure a Living Colt.

At fine Saddle Stallion,

WILLIAM L.,

Will also make the present season of 1895 at the low price of EIGHT DOLLARS to insure a living colt. It is elegantly bred and a sure foal getter. I will also stand

SIX OR 7 GOOD JACKS,

On the following terms: I am to have the refusal of the colt at your price on September 1, 1895 deducting one-fifth of the amount for season money,

IVORY SOAP

IVORY

IT FLOATS.

BEST FOR SHIRTS.

THE PROCTER &amp; GAMBLE CO., CINTL.

...For a .....

Refreshing Bath. Hot or Cold,
A stylish Hair Trim, or Clean Shave, go to Cook & Farmer's Barber Shop.

PATENTS

CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS
COPYRIGHTS.

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt answer and an honest opinion, write to MUNN & CO., who have had nearly fifty years' experience in the business. All communications strictly confidential. A free Handbook of Information concerning Patents and how to obtain them sent free. Also a Catalogue of mechanical and electrical books sent free.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the Scientific American, and there are many benefits to be derived by the inventor. This splendid paper, issued weekly, elegantly illustrated, has by far the largest circulation of any scientific work in the world. It is very valuable, containing free Building Edition, monthly, $1.20 a year. Beautifully bound, colored, and illustrated. Of new houses, with plans, enabling builders to show the latest designs and secure contracts. Address MUNN & CO., NEW YORK, 361 BROADWAY.

TO FLORIDA & TO NEW ORLEANS VIA THE QUEEN & CRESCENT ROUTE

Superb Vestibuled Trains FROM CINCINNATI

To Lexington, Chattanooga, Birmingham, Meridian, New Orleans, Atlanta, Macon and Jacksonville.

Through Sleeping Cars to Birmingham, Columbus, Albany, Knoxville, Asheville, Jackson, Vickburg and Shreveport.

Through Train Sleeper, Cincinnati to Los Angeles and San Francisco every Thursday. Direct Route to the Southwest via New Orleans or via Shreveport.

3 DAILY TRAINS TO CHATTANOOGA
Send for Literature and Time Tables.

CHAS. W. ZELL, D. P. A.,
Cor. 4th and Race sts., Cincinnati.

NORFOLK AND WESTERN RAILROAD.

TICKETS SOLD TO ALL POINTS:

OHIO, INDIANA, ILLINOIS,

WISCONSIN,

MISSOURI, KANSAS,

NEBRASKA, COLORADO,

ARKANSAS, CALIFORNIA,

TEXAS,

THE WEST, NORTH-WEST, SOUTH-WEST

FIRST CLASS, SECOND CLASS
AND EMIGRANT TICKETS.

THE BEST ROUTE TO THE NORTH AND EAST.

PULLMAN VESTIBULED COACHES,

SLEEPING AND DINING CARS

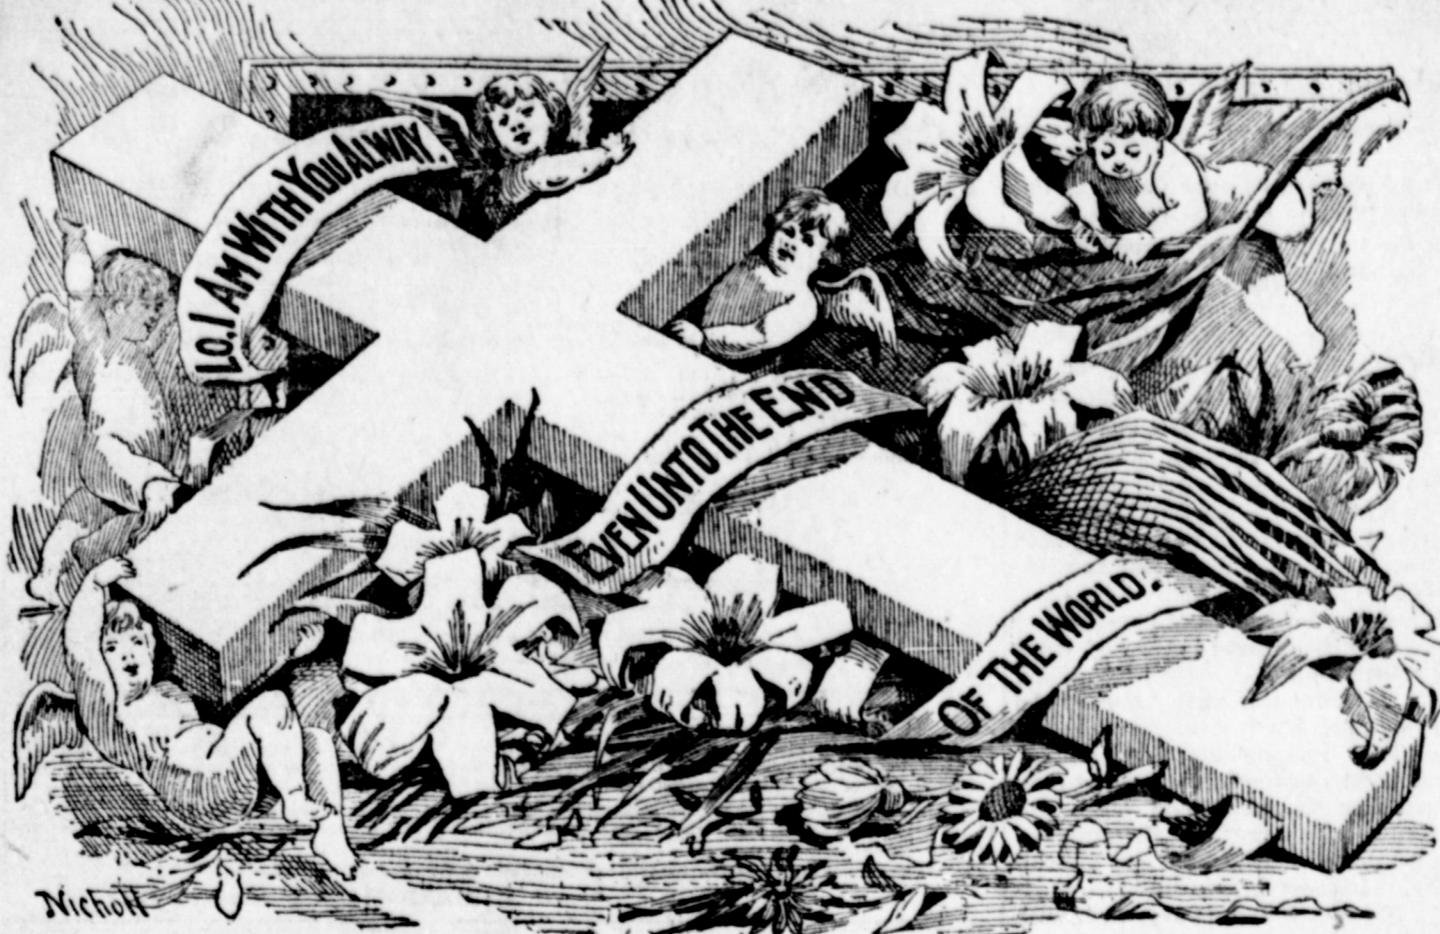

SEE THAT YOUR TICKETS READ OVER THE

NORFOLK & WESTERN RAILROAD

CHEAPEST, BEST AND QUICKEST LINE.

Write for Rates, Maps, Time-Tables, Descriptive Amphlets, to any Station Agent, or to

W. B. BEVILL, ALLEN HULL, M. F. BRAGG,
W. B. REED, G. P. Agent, C. G. Agent,
Allen Hull, M. F. Bragg, G. P. Agent,
C. G. Agent, C. G. Agent, C. G. Agent,
ROANOKE, VA. ROANOKE, VA.

HOW HE AROSE.

AN EASTER STORY.
BY WILL L. VISSCHER.

JOHN MICOU stood with his back to the fireplace in the living-room, first on one foot then on the other, toasting the soles of his heavy boots. He had just come in from his work of repairing the broken places in the worm fences on the little blue grass farm which he had inherited, and on which stood the log house in which he had made his first appearance on earth fifty-odd years before.

Near by, that is to say, within a mile or so from Chinquapin hill, stood the ancient village of Perley, whose spires and other highest objects could be seen, in almost any kind of weather, from the altitude of the farmhouse.

Jacques and Louise Micou, the founders of the American Micou family, had long ago gone to the last rest and their children were out in the world, prosperous people, heads of families who still spoke of Chinquapin hill as "home," and who with their children frequently came to the old place for summerings, a few at a time, or many of them, as circumstances were, and it was always a haven when a haven was needed.

Of the sons and daughters of Jacques and Louise there were two, however, who had never left Chinquapin hill except on social or business visits. They were John and Julie. John you have already met. He was the youngest son of the family and the master of Chinquapin hill, and he had a glorious family of boys and girls, about a dozen in all, and Mrs. John was yet a handsome, white-haired, quiet and happy matron of fifty.

Julie was the "old maid" of the family. She was trim and neat, demure and forty-odd, sweet-faced and sweet-mannered, beloved by the entire tribe and the especial love and butt of her almost brawny yet tender brother John. He rallied her about her old maid ways, but frequently hugged her like a bear, when she came in his way, and always released her with a gentle kiss.

Late in the afternoon of a soft day—soft as to the condition of the soil—early in the year of grace, 1893, while John Micou was toasting the soles of his boots before the fire, as he stood first on one foot and then on the other, he was joking Julie as usual, and upon his favorite theme.

"Joe Thompson will be at Easter, won't he, Julie? Joe's hair must be a sight by this time if he hasn't had it cut any more than he did in those days. Maybe he's bald. That would be a

Ho had barely uttered the words when he caught a look from Julie that made him feel just as if he had struck her a violent blow in the face with his clenched fist. It was the same look of the hunted fawn that has been mentioned before in this true tale. He was heartily ashamed of it, but did not go to Julie with humble apologies and contritely begged her pardon as he should have done.

When the work in the church was completed Julie accompanied a schoolmate friend and chum to her home in the village and remained until time for services the following day, Easter Sunday. Then she went home with the others, in the family carriage, to Chinquapin Hill.

Sometimes when things start the wrong way it seems that the track is lubricated to facilitate swiftness.

It had been arranged that Joe Thompson was to go to a distant city, in due time, to take a place in business with a maternal uncle who was the head of a great manufacturing establishment. A contingency had arisen in the establishment that made it necessary for him to start on the Monday morning, succeeding Easter Sunday, in obedience to a sudden message.

On his way, in the early morning, to the village where he was to take passage, Joe called at Chinquapin Hill to say "good-by," and also, let us hope, to apologize to Julie for his almost brutal words of the Saturday before.

Julie was ill and not knowing that he was going so far away so suddenly did not see him.

Love is exceedingly sensitive and is eminently powerful in constructing mountains from mole hills.

Joseph Thompson, as he pursued his way, ruminating upon the subject, concluded, of course, that Julie was angry with him, when, indeed, she had never been angry in her life, though blanche to decorate the church for Easter, and—how's your bonnet? Well, you shall have the best one in the shop and the prettiest. Now run away, I know you want to."

She arose and giving John the tiniest kiss on the ear—or somewhere in that neighborhood—vanished in her gentle way.

"I wish that milk-sop had been born in Beloochistan and never left home," John Micou remarked to himself, as he contemplated the bald head of one of the brass andirons.

The Micous had descended from Huguenot stock that had originally settled in North Carolina, and Episcopalianism had been their inherited religion. Julie's religion was second nature to her. Indeed it was almost "first-nature," if I may be allowed the term. Joseph Thompson and Julie Micou had been sweethearts from their childhood and this association of the two had grown to be a settled and accepted fact in the two families who were as close as adjoining farms and two generations of intimacy could make them, and yet the Thompsons were Methodists.

There came an Easter season just about the time when Joe and Julie were at the portals of manhood and womanhood in which Julie, with other maidens of the church, for two or three days before Easter Sunday, was busily and devoutly dressing, adorning and decorating the walls, chancel and pulpit of the old chapel in the village for the approaching festival.

There were some young men in the little church with the girls helping them about the heavier part of their pleasant and congenial tasks, and in the chatter among the young folks there arose some good-natured bantering concerning denominational faiths. One of the other girls remarked that there was really only one Christian church, "the Holy Catholic," meaning, of course, its Protestant side, and that such denominations as Methodists, Reformers, Baptists and the like were only "societies."

The "insane impulse" is something to which nearly all intelligent persons are more or less exposed, at some time in some way. The inclination to spring from a high place to the depths below; to throw one's self under a rapidly passing railway train; to say a harsh thing at the wrong time, are, perhaps, some of the more violent phases of this "impulse," and it was that kind of an impulse that led Joe Thompson on that Saturday afternoon to say:

"More religion and less ceremony is good to have in a church. But that can't be expected in the Episcopal church, of which the best thing ever said is that it doesn't bother with religion or polities."

Young Mr. Thompson may have been urged to this under the delusion that he was saying something very humorous, second-hand though he knew it to be.

He had barely uttered the words when he caught a look from Julie that made him feel just as if he had struck her a violent blow in the face with his clenched fist. It was the same look of the hunted fawn that has been mentioned before in this true tale. He was heartily ashamed of it, but did not go to Julie with humble apologies and contritely begged her pardon as he should have done.

Joseph Thompson was one day borne from the scene of a western saloon brawl, wounded and unconscious, to a hospital. It happened to be an Episcopal institution to which he was carried, and it was more like a home than a hospital.

He had a long and hard tussle and wrestle for life, but he came out of it at last, subdued, refined as by fire, changed altogether for the better. His native intelligence assumed a stronger sway than it had ever gained before and his heart turned to better things; to home, and Julie, and religion. During his long convalescence he had the almost continual companionship of the young rector who had charge of the hospital chapel. Joe fitted himself easily, for confirmation in the church. He had learned its catechism, creed, litany and general services when a boy for Julie's sake; he studied for orders, was ordained as a minister and was given charge of a western parish.

On his way, in the early morning, to the village where he was to take passage, Joe called at Chinquapin Hill to say "good-by," and also, let us hope, to apologize to Julie for his almost brutal words of the Saturday before.

Julie was ill and not knowing that he was going so far away so suddenly did not see him.

Love is exceedingly sensitive and is eminently powerful in constructing mountains from mole hills.

Joseph Thompson, as he pursued his way, ruminating upon the subject, concluded, of course, that Julie was angry with him, when, indeed, she had never been angry in her life, though truth to tell, she was still suffering from the blow he had given. He made some poor excuses for himself to himself, but the foundation that upheld him in it all was that he would smooth matters over, if necessary, in his letters, and he would see her in the summer. Besides, Mr. Joseph Thompson felt very much elated, somewhat conceited and altogether self-satisfied, as rural young men nearly always do under anything like similar circumstances. He felt proud, indeed, to think that the city could not, very well, get along without him.

It transpired that the inexperienced Joseph fitted the city too well, but his uncle's business not closely enough. The story is so old that to repeat it would seem to be a waste of time, not to speak of its commonplaceness. Joe's letters were just like all such letters for a time, and then they fell off just as letters do when young men from the country start in the city on the pace that kills. Joe's dismissal from his uncle's service brought him a consciousness of disgrace. He went elsewhere—indeed far off into the west—to accept a situation obtained under the influence of a boon companion. Ugly habits brought more bad results and thus the years went on. Home and Julie had become a befogged memory. But Julie herself kept on in her devotion to the little chapel, and with Joe beside it in her heart, while the hunted light of the world comes from a tomb. It is not Golgotha that inspires the Christian, for tens of thousands have died upon a cross; but it is the sepulcher of the Arimathea about which center the faith and the hope of all believers. The ages had groped in darkness until the coming of the Christ. True, Joe had declared with sublime positiveness: "I know that my Redeemer liveth," yet he also put forth the anguished inquiry: "If a man die shall he live again?" There is nothing in all the Hebrew theology that gives assurance of a future life. Here there is a hint and there a faint suggestion in the Old Testament, but there is not one absolute promise in all its pages. The Sadducees of Christ's day were philosophers and scholars, yet they utterly denied the doctrine of resurrection. Men found the terror of death a burden they could not cast off. Christ came and in His death and resurrection from the dead brought life and immortality to light. The Chinese have a Confucius, the Hindus a Buddha and the Mohammedans a prophet, each of them a great teacher and a good man; but they left the dogma of immortality where they found it—a gloomy, uncertain, unsatisfactory and ill-defined something that might or might not be. They were men who lived, suffered, died and disappeared without a trace, as countless millions of other mortals have done. The Nazarene, so lived, so suffered and so died. Divinity stamped His words and His works, but humanity was in His agony and bloody sweat, and in His giving up of the ghost. As a man that had been, His body was laid away in the tomb and His disciples mourned as for a man that was not.

The announcement: "He is not here; He is risen," was the Divine thrill that was destined to quicken all the dead into life and put a new song into the mouth of humanity. Bless God for the glad tidings, the confirmation of Christ's words to Martha: "I am the resurrection and the life. Whosoever liveth and believeth in Me shall never die." Light comes out of the shadows of death, and the face that is wet with tears at a new-made grave may look upward to the Christ-star of promise and say with Paul: "O grave, where is thy victory?"

Springtime of resurrection of nature, when the trees put on energy and the ground is instinct with new life; when flowers spring up as by magic and send fragrance out everywhere, how fitting that Easter day, Christ-resurrection day, should be commemorated in the midst of vernal beauty. How meet that the bells shall ring glad notes and that the service of the churches shall partake of the universal gladness of nature. Christ is risen from the dead and become the first fruits of them that sleep. Hail, Easter day! harbinger of man's final triumph over death, when they that sleep in Him shall be raised and join their deathless Lord.

READING JOE'S LETTER.

look in her eyes became more and more frequent, and she grew to be the little old maid that she was, always expecting that Joe would come some day, and then dear, old, big brother John would just joking Julie about her lost sweet-heart of "way back yonder."

Strangely things sometimes happen to change the whole course of a life. For instance: A plain, common, everyday printer, who had just returned to his side of the country after the great war of 1861-65, seeking employment in the "black art" that he had abandoned four years before, to become a soldier, was in a steamboat explosion and came down on his head from his blowing up, striking in such a way that his bumps of humor and pathos, that lie so close together, were so developed when he picked himself out of a swath of dead people lying on the river bank, that he got ten thousand dollars' damages, became a newspaper proprietor and grew rich and famous from his writings and all.

Joseph Thompson was one day borne from the scene of a western saloon brawl, wounded and unconscious, to a hospital. It happened to be an Episcopal institution to which he was carried, and it was more like a home than a hospital.

He had a long and hard tussle and wrestle for life, but he came out of it at last, subdued, refined as by fire, changed altogether for the better. His native intelligence assumed a stronger sway than it had ever gained before and his heart turned to better things; to home, and Julie, and religion. During his long convalescence he had the almost continual companionship of the young rector who had charge of the hospital chapel. Joe fitted himself easily, for confirmation in the church. He had learned its catechism, creed, litany and general services when a boy for Julie's sake; he studied for orders, was ordained as a minister and was given charge of a western parish.

On his way, in the early morning, to the village where he was to take passage, Joe called at Chinquapin Hill to say "good-by," and also, let us hope, to apologize to Julie for his almost brutal words of the Saturday before.

Julie was ill and not knowing that he was going so far away so suddenly did not see him.

Love is exceedingly sensitive and is eminently powerful in constructing mountains from mole hills.

Joseph Thompson, as he pursued his way, ruminating upon the subject, concluded, of course, that Julie was angry with him, when, indeed, she had never been angry in her life, though probably, "the best one in the shop," as he had suggested, because Julie didn't care for that.

It was known by the vestry that there would be a minister in the nature of a temporary "supply" for the old rector, who was growing feeble. It had been the request of Rev. Joseph Thompson that his name should not be announced until after the morning services. The vestry appreciated his wishes. This was his native town.

To Julie there was no need that the name should be given, even though the minister's hair was as white as his surplice, and twenty-five years had passed since she had seen that face. She knew that her big brother John would never again rally her about her long-lost sweetheart. He had arisen.

The light of the world comes from a tomb. It is not Golgotha that inspires the Christian, for tens of thousands have died upon a cross; but it is the sepulcher of the Arimathea about which center the faith and the hope of all believers.

It was known by the vestry that there would be a minister in the nature of a temporary "supply" for the old rector, who was growing feeble. It had been the request of Rev. Joseph Thompson that his name should not be announced until after the morning services. The vestry appreciated his wishes. This was his native town.

To Julie there was no need that the name should be given, even though the minister's hair was as white as his surplice, and twenty-five years had passed since she had seen that face. She knew that her big brother John would never again rally her about her long-lost sweetheart. He had arisen.

In Poor Health

means so much more than you imagine—serious and fatal diseases result from trifling ailments neglected.

Don't play with Nature's greatest gift—health.

Brown's Iron Bitters

If you are feeling out of sorts, weak and generally exhausted, nervous, and have no appetite and can't work,

STANFORD, KY., - APRIL 12, 1985

E. C. WALTON, Business Manager

PERSONAL POINTS.

MR. AND MRS. H. S. WITHERS went to Louisville yesterday.

MRS. R. S. LYTLE and Robbie Penny went to Louisville, Wednesday.

MISS EMMA OWSEY is spending the week with her aunt, Mrs. W. M. Lackey.

MR. AND MRS. L. C. ALCORN, of Greensburg, passed through to Lancaster Tuesday.

MR. T. M. SCOTT, of Somersett, was up to see his brother, Ethelbert D. Scott, Esq.

MRS. THOMAS D. RANNEY and daughter are visiting Mrs. Max Salinger in Louisville.

MRS. M. J. WITHERS went up to Flat Lick Tuesday to visit her sister, Mrs. G. M. Smith.

MRS. MARY DICKINSON and Mrs. W. L. Porter, of Glasgow, are guests of Mrs. W. E. Ellis.

ELDER G. W. GOWAN, the brilliant young preacher at Lancaster, is the guest of Elder W. E. Ellis.

MRS. LIZZIE YEAGER and pretty daughter, Miss Katie Lee, of Boyle, visited friends here this week.

MISS SALLIE RAY, of Garrard, sister of Mr. John Ray, of the Louisville Store, is visiting Miss Montie Harris.

MR. C. J. CRAIG and family have moved in to the house on Danville street advertised by Mr. A. D. Root.

MRS. CECILIA EPPINGHOUSE BAILEY will sing in Louisville next week to accompaniments by Miss Dolly Williams.

MR. S. W. MOORE, operator at Lebanon Junction, spent week here with his brother, Train Dispatcher C. A. Moore.

MESDAMES FORESTUS REID and W. H. Miller and Miss Mary Reid went to Danville yesterday to visit Mrs. Mary Bowman.

DR. I. B. OLDHAM and wife, of Madison, are down to see the latter's mother, Mrs. A. C. Newland, who is threatened with pneumonia.

MISS BLANCHE RING, who has made many friends during her stay here, spent a couple of days very pleasantly with Miss Ethyl Beazley.

MISS CALLIE HORTON will remain in Lexington where she graduated at the Business College. She procured a position at once in the city to do stenography and typewriting.

MRS. M. C. BURNSIDE and Mrs. A. G. Huffman went to Lancaster yesterday to see Mrs. Burnsides' great aunt, Mrs. Betty Myers, who is very ill. Mrs. Myers is 96 years old and it is thought she cannot recover.

MRS. JOHN A. HALDEMAN and children, who have been visiting at Mr. John Buchanan's, Crab Orchard, returned to Louisville this week. Her husband will sail for Europe in a few days to be gone three months.

CITY AND VICINITY.

LOUVA, the Pauper, April 19th.

NEW fancy shirts and neckties at Sevance &amp; Son's.

HANDSOME line of dinner sets just received at Farris &amp; Hardin's.

A JOLLY good play is Louva, the Pauper, at Walton's Opera House, April 19.

BUY Landreth's garden seed; new bulk cheaper than papers. W. B. McRoberts.

Good second-hand cook stove for sale, cheap. J. H. Kirby, the insurance man.

For a hot or cold bath, a clean, easy shave or a stylish hair cut, go to Wilkinson's.

SEED Irish potatoes $1 per bushel; corn and tomatoes 5c per can at W. H. Warren &amp; Co.

Do you ride a wheel? Buy a pair of bicycle shoes and a sweater from Severance &amp; Son.

MARSHAL O. J. NEWLAND is rejoicing over the arrival of a new town marshal at his house.

BEAUTIFUL line of straw matting and latest patterns in wall papers at Withers &amp; Hocker's.

LAUGH and grow fat. Admission 35c, Reserved seats 50c. Louva, the Pauper, Walton's Opera House, April 19th.

JOE RICHARDSON, colored, was fined $25 and given 10 days in jail by Judge Davison, Tuesday, for carrying concealed weapons.

$2,000's worth of goods consisting of shoes, clothing, dry goods, notions, &amp;c., to close at cost. Come and buy them while they are cheap at C. D. Powell's, 2t.

The weather has been especially fine for several days and the buds and grass have come out wonderfully: "Increasing cloudiness, warmer" read yesterday's prediction.

LIBERTY.—Our reporter sends the following: Circuit court closed Tuesday evening after a busy session. The jury in the case of William Allen, for the killing of Ben Barlow, after being held over from Saturday, about 11 a. m., Monday reported a verdict of acquittal. The case of Phil Devers for the killing of Purdon, was continued until next court.

DANKS' glassware is selling like hot cakes.

TO MORROW is horse show day at Hustonville.

New line of dress goods just received at Shanks'.

REDUCED prices on all goods for Easter at Danks, the jeweler.

FOR SALE.—A good second-hand bicycle. Address loc box 192, Stanford.

If you want first-class cakes, biscuits and lightbread get Obelisk Flour from J. C. Florence.

If you want good, strong, home-made harness, the place to go is M. S. &amp; J. W. Baughman's. They will sell you the best at the lowest prices.

We want 100,000 lbs. of wool for which we guarantee the highest market price.

10,000 lbs. feathers, 100,000 dozen eggs,

10,000 lbs. hams and sides, all at the highest market price. Hughes &amp; Tate.

UNABLE to fumigate the Academy building from the polecat stench, which fills it since the escapade of the boys, Prof. Duffy has had to go to the public school building for a season with his classes.

SOME miscreants let down two of the arc lights the other night when they weren't burning and tied the ropes across the pavement to trip people up, but it was discovered in time to prevent accidents or scare horses.

THERE are liars and liars, but the greatest of all is Harry Giovannoli, of the Danville Advocate. He has the gall to print that Dr. Orear caught in Green River 1,734 bass weighing from three to five pounds and hung a big one that got away.

THERE is a good deal of matter in this issue appropriate to Easter, which you can spend this Good Friday in reading.

We suspect, however, the average female reader would rather purchase an Easter hat than read all the Easter literature ever printed.

SQUIRE MURPHY says that the prospect for fruits of all kinds at present is above the average. The peach crop, he says, in some localities is badly damaged while in others, not far distant, it is hurt scarcely at all. There will be a good many pears.

LAST Tuesday was the 30th anniversary of the surrender of Gen. Lee at Appomattox. A new generation has come on the scene since then and but few recalled the event, which was so recently and so eloquently told of by Gen. Gordon in his lecture here.

OUR office is frequently honored with visits from birds, but yesterday was the first time a rabbit ever took a notion to visit us. One was run down the street by dogs and seeing a safe retreat in our steps he bolted up and sought an asylum in "our midst" and was easily caught.

We suppose he was attracted to town by the excessively dull and painfully quiet time we are experiencing. But it is rather a joke on Stanford to receive such visits.

FOR violating the local option law,

Charles Armstrong, of color, was fined $100 each in two cases, Tuesday. Another negro swore that Charley had sold him a stick of candy at one time for 20cts.

and threw in a drink of whisky and at another had charged him 20 cents for a ginger cake and give him a swill at his liquor bottle. The walking blind tiger didn't have $200 about his clothes, so he went to jail to ponder over the vanities and vexations of a cruel world.

A RATHER salacious case was tried here Tuesday. Miss Ollie Mack Young, who by the way was named for Dr. O. H. McRoberts, and who is a daughter of Mr. Andrew Young, charged James Cash, postmaster at Highland and a married man, with catching hold of her hand against her will and making demonstrations she did not like. Mr. Cash said he only caught hold of her umbrella saying "you don't need this," but the jury believed the young lady's story and fined him $100, from which he took an appeal.

He says there is nothing in the case and the next may see the case in the same light. It is an assault in the eyes of the law to lay hands on a woman, even in the slightest way without her consent.

A BAD CASE.—Tuesday last Depot Agent Thomas Lasley caught Darst Barnett and Tip Crutchfield in the yards at Rowland taking coal. He tried to drive them off and finally kicked the Barnett boy before he would go. When Bob Barnett learned of such indignity to his brother, he laid for Mr. Lasley, who hit him with a rock in the temple, when he attacked him for it. Then Barnett went for his pistol and Lasley being unarmed sought shelter in a convenient barroom. Barnett followed him and was disarmed after some effort. That night, it is alleged that Hayden Shanks, Reuben Delaney, Robert Barnett, Walter O'Dear and Craig Camden, armed themselves for the purpose of annihilating Mr. Lasley, and started for his home in Stanford. On the way they stopped several parties and made them dance jigs at the points of their pistols, but for some cause they did not come to Stanford. Hearing that they were coming Marshal Newland went to Mr. Lasley's and the three laid on their arms for some time expecting an attack. The next day Mr. Lasley swore out a warrant against the five men charging them with banding and confederating together to commit a crime, which is a penitentiary offense, and Constable Benedict arrested Barnett, Shanks and Delaney, O'Dear and Camden having flown. Barnett was too badly hurt to appear, but the other two were brought before the county judge yesterday and their trials set for Saturday morning, their bail in the meantime being fixed at $100.

SEE our Cable Temple gold specs. They are beauties. Danks, the optician.

The latest styles in straw hats at the lowest prices are to be found at Shanks'.

WHY not be in the style when you get a straw hat, tie and a suit of clothes at any price you want at Shanks'.

ZEIGLER shoes in great variety at Shanks'. They are the most stylish, most durable, most comfortable and the cheapest.

JUDGE SAUFLEY held a special term of the circuit court Wednesday for the trial of some equity cases. Judge R. J. Breckinridge, R. P. Jacobs and Robert Hardin, Esq., were in attendance.

THE Young Ladies' Aid Society will serve refreshments at the exchange tomorrow afternoon at a nominal price. Call and enjoy them. The cut flowers will also be on hand for delivery to those who ordered them.

JAILER J. T. BROWN and brother, Clay Brown, of Casey, delivered to Jailer DeBord yesterday, Zek Eads, for safe-keeping until the next term of court. Eads is charged with malicious shooting James Wesley, several weeks ago.

Two little fellows, Tom Cain and Bob Geary, of Junction City, after reading a dime novel, took it into their heads to strike out for themselves and win fame and fortune. They hid in a box car on the Q. &amp; C. and had gotten far South, when Marshal Frank Ellis overtook and brought them back to be switched by their papas.

THE young ladies and gentlemen who are to present "Louva the Pauper" at Walton's Opera House, Friday, April 19, are getting their parts down fine and a creditable performance is assured. During the play Mrs. A. G. Huffman will sing a solo to a piano accompaniment by Miss Nora Moreland and a violin obligato by J. L. Deckelman. The price of admission will be 35 and 50 cents.

UNDER ARREST.—Sheriff T. D. Newland received information this week that the men, George Petrey and Joe Durham, accused of the murder of old man Apt had been arrested at Vincennes, Ind., on a description sent and he left Tuesday via Frankfort to procure a requisition before trying to bring them back. He got the papers all right, but not knowing one of the men, he could not identify him and consequently was delayed in his return. He is expected here with his prisoners to-day.

IN 1842, Mr. Thomas McRoberts, of Danville, then sheriff of Lincoln county, qualified as administrator of the estate of Joseph Stuart. His property consisted, among other things, of a large body of land in Pendleton county, which Mr. McRoberts sold and paid over what money was not lost by defaulting attorneys and fees of limitation. The heirs of Mr. Stuart, about 60 in number, are now suing Mr. McRoberts for $10,000 and over and the case is being heard by Judge Saufley, with Judge Breckinridge and C. L. Welch for the plaintiff and Col. Jacobs and Hill &amp; Alcorn for the defendant.

OUR office is frequently honored with visits from birds, but yesterday was the first time a rabbit ever took a notion to visit us. One was run down the street by dogs and seeing a safe retreat in our steps he bolted up and sought an asylum in "our midst" and was easily caught.

We suppose he was attracted to town by the excessively dull and painfully quiet time we are experiencing. But it is rather a joke on Stanford to receive such visits.

FOR violating the local option law,

Charles Armstrong, of color, was fined $100 each in two cases, Tuesday. Another negro swore that Charley had sold him a stick of candy at one time for 20cts.

and threw in a drink of whisky and at another had charged him 20 cents for a ginger cake and give him a swill at his liquor bottle. The walking blind tiger didn't have $200 about his clothes, so he went to jail to ponder over the vanities and vexations of a cruel world.

A RATHER salacious case was tried here Tuesday. Miss Ollie Mack Young, who by the way was named for Dr. O. H. McRoberts, and who is a daughter of Mr. Andrew Young, charged James Cash, postmaster at Highland and a married man, with catching hold of her hand against her will and making demonstrations she did not like. Mr. Cash said he only caught hold of her umbrella saying "you don't need this," but the jury believed the young lady's story and fined him $100, from which he took an appeal.

He says there is nothing in the case and the next may see the case in the same light. It is an assault in the eyes of the law to lay hands on a woman, even in the slightest way without her consent.

A BAD CASE.—Tuesday last Depot Agent Thomas Lasley caught Darst Barnett and Tip Crutchfield in the yards at Rowland taking coal. He tried to drive them off and finally kicked the Barnett boy before he would go. When Bob Barnett learned of such indignity to his brother, he laid for Mr. Lasley, who hit him with a rock in the temple, when he attacked him for it. Then Barnett went for his pistol and Lasley being unarmed sought shelter in a convenient barroom. Barnett followed him and was disarmed after some effort. That night, it is alleged that Hayden Shanks, Reuben Delaney, Robert Barnett, Walter O'Dear and Craig Camden, armed themselves for the purpose of annihilating Mr. Lasley, and started for his home in Stanford. On the way they stopped several parties and made them dance jigs at the points of their pistols, but for some cause they did not come to Stanford. Hearing that they were coming Marshal Newland went to Mr. Lasley's and the three laid on their arms for some time expecting an attack. The next day Mr. Lasley swore out a warrant against the five men charging them with banding and confederating together to commit a crime, which is a penitentiary offense, and Constable Benedict arrested Barnett, Shanks and Delaney, O'Dear and Camden having flown. Barnett was too badly hurt to appear, but the other two were brought before the county judge yesterday and their trials set for Saturday morning, their bail in the meantime being fixed at $100.

THE weather has been especially fine for several days and the buds and grass have come out wonderfully: "Increasing cloudiness, warmer" read yesterday's prediction.

LIBERTY.—Our reporter sends the following: Circuit court closed Tuesday evening after a busy session. The jury in the case of William Allen, for the killing of Ben Barlow, after being held over from Saturday, about 11 a. m., Monday reported a verdict of acquittal. The case of Phil Devers for the killing of Purdon, was continued until next court.

Grand Opening

-:-:- OF -:-:-

STRICTLY ONE PRICE

SATURDAY, APRIL 13TH,

With a Magnificent Stock of

High Art Clothing,

Imported Clay Worsteds
and Finest Grade Cassimeres.

Very : Latest : Novelties

In BOYS' AND CHILDREN'S

CLOTHING.

Line consists of the

VERY LATEST

And most Stylish Novelties.

HATS of the very latest block.

A Cordial Invitation is extended to all.

Our Motto: Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. A souvenir given to each lady and gentleman on this day.

J. L. FROHMAN &amp; CO., Danville.

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL

Published Every Tuesday and Friday
AT $2 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE
When not so paid $2.50 will be charged.

K. C. LOCAL TIME CARD.

Train leaves Rowland at 7:00 a. m., returning at 6:00 p. m.

L. & N. LOCAL TIME CARD.

No. 21, Train going North..... 12:37 p. m.
No. 22, " " " " 1:25 p. m.
No. 23, " " " " 1:51 p. m.
No. 24, " " " " 3:28 a. m.
QUEEN & CRESCENT.

Trains pass Junction City as follows:

No. 1, South 1..... No. 2 North 1..... 12:30 p. m.
" 3 " " " " 12:45 a. m. " " 1:30 p. m.
" 5 " " " " 12:50 p. m. " " 1:45 p. m.
" 9 " " " " 8:00 p. m. " " 6:00 a. m.
" Do Not Stop.

A cream of tarter baking powder. Highest of all in leavening strength.—[Latest United States Government Food Report.]

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO.,
106 Wall Street, New York.

W. S. BURCH,
Attorney at Law,
Stanford, - - Kentucky.

One on Lancaster Street, opposite the Court House. Collections receive special attention. $5.

A. S. PRICE,
Surgeon
Dentist,
Stanford, Ky.
Office over McRoberts' Drug Store in the Owsley Building.

Wallace E. Vernon,
Attorney at Law,
Stanford, - - Kentucky.

Will act as Executor, Administrator and Assignee.
Special attention given to Settlements of Estates, as Attorney and Sale and Division of Estates' Lands.
Office on Lancaster St. over Supt. W. F. McCleary's office.

A. G. Lanham

ROYAL
Insurance Company
OF LIVERPOOL.

BARBEE & CASTLEMAN
MANAGERS,
Commerce Building, Louisville
Agents throughout the South

W. A. TRIBBLE, Local Agent,
STANFORD, KY.

TO THE LADIES.

I desire to call your attention to the fact that I am ready to serve you in Dress Making in any and all styles, on what ladies should wear. Prices reasonable. Come in and give me a trial. I employ none but first class help.

At present I can be found at Miss Carrie Porter's residence on Lancaster Street.

Respectfully, MISS MARY D. SMITH,
77-78

Stanford, Ky.

DON'T

Let your Painting, Papering and Calcinining until you see Baldwin Brothers. We furnish first-class material and guarantee first-class work, or no money. Address, Stanford, Ky.

DR. L. B. COOK,
Stanford, Ky.

Office Up Stairs; First Door East of McRoberts' Drug Store.

YOUNG

Ladies Exchange

EVERYTHING

Good to Eat.

Candy, Pop Corn Balls, Egg-Kisses, Cakes, Beaten Biscuit, Salads, etc., etc.

OPEN

Every : Saturday,

In Mr. R. Williams' store-room,
Opposite the St. Asaph Hotel.

Orders gladly received and promptly filled.

Knox Circuit Court, Crime and Politics.

To the Editor of the Interior Journal.
BARKSBURG, April 10.—Court convened yesterday, Hon. A. R. Clarke presiding. There were about 2,500 people present. Judge Clarke's instructions to the grand jury were so full, so complete, so elaborate. He showed up the cowardly murderer in all his naked deformity. He showed how the people were responsible for the excrecence of crime upon society. He said when a man murdered an inoffensive citizen, then a crowd of leering, grinning idiots, (he could call them nothing else) followed him around patting him on the back telling him what a brave man he was. Brave man indeed! A coward, a murderer, an assassin! He also said that the jail was the place for criminals, and if the grand jury knew of a man walking around on the streets, who belonged in jail, to indict the jailer.

In the evening the largest crowd I ever saw in a court-house assembled. They instructed unanimously for Col. W. O. Bradley, and much enthusiasm prevailed. They also nominated a candidate for the Legislature. W. R. Black was the man. He received 1,000 votes, his opponent 20. A majority of 980. Every available foot of floor was occupied in the court house, nobody pretended to set down, speeches were made by Hons. W. R. Ramsey, Dr. Blair, Col. S. M. Cash and others. They actually seem to think that they have some showing to be successful November, in the State election.

The Perry county murder case is set for Thursday. We expect 200 witnesses and friends from Perry to-morrow. Some are here now. The widow Little, daughter of Judge Combs, his son and some others, but all will be in to-morrow. There are many lawyers on both sides—some of more, others of less ability. There is a good deal of money on both sides. Judge Combs was quite a prominent and wealthy man. I knew him well and all his family. We never can have peace and good order in the mountains till the court of appeals ceases to turn out the bloody men we send to the penitentiary. I am well acquainted with the desperate Tom Smith that is to be hung in Jackson, 31st of May, for murdering Dr. Rader. He's one of the court of appeals pets, who had been sent for life and they granted him a new trial. There are 10 murder cases on docket, nine men and one woman, who killed her husband. There are about 40 felony cases on docket. Kentucky is indeed the "dark and bloody ground."

This is a beautiful city and grand place. I was loaded with bouquets before I got off the train and my room now is sweeter than the incense of Persia, yea more delicious than the odors wafted by accidental gales from the fields of Arabian spices. I wear a bunch of flowers upon the lappel of my coat that a 15 year-old beauty pinned on there with delicate fingers as white as snow.

This term of court will continue four weeks—what an expense to the tax-payers are the law-breakers of Eastern Kentucky! Some of the trials cost $10,000. In the blue-grass when they kill, 'tis generally open, bold and brave, but half the murders in the mountains are from ambush. Nature has erected the fortifications and when a man gets behind one they seem to be seized with an irresistible desire to shoot the first man that passes against whom they have any malice. I hope the olive branch of peace will soon wave over the beautiful mountains of Kentucky.

Fontaine Fox BOBBITT.

—Fifty citizens of Edmonson county, among them a Baptist preacher, were arrested for tearing down a house occupied by depraved women. The Commonwealth failed to make out a case against the citizens, although they acknowledged what they had done.

—Gov. Brown has pardoned Grant Carnett, who was convicted in Letcher county and sent to the penitentiary for three years for bigamy. Carnett was not guilty of the crime, the Governor having ascertained beyond doubt that he was divorced from his first wife before marrying the second.

DR. L. B. COOK,

Stanford, Ky.

Office Up Stairs; First Door East of McRoberts' Drug Store.

YOUNG

Ladies Exchange

EVERYTHING

Good to Eat.

Candy, Pop Corn Balls, Egg-Kisses, Cakes, Beaten Biscuit, Salads, etc., etc.

OPEN

Every : Saturday,

In Mr. R. Williams' store-room,
Opposite the St. Asaph Hotel.

Orders gladly received and promptly filled.

HE south wind caught
the sunbeams
" Mong orange blooms at play,
And far o'er mountains bore them
To where the snowdrifts lay.
In soft, warm arms it bore them
To far off Northern land
Where brooks were bound in fetters
Wrought by the ice king's hand,
Till by an ancient maple
The south wind set them free.
And the sunbeams smiled
Where the snow was piled
And danced in the leafless tree.

The snowdrift moved and melted,
The brook its shackles cast,
And through the ancient maple
The sap ran free and fast;
The cold earth stirred and murmured,
A violet brave looked up,
And the sunbeams came from the branches
And hid in its purple cup.

The church bells rang the message
That cheered the hearts of men
When first the grave was conquered
And Jesus lived again;
The air was rich with odors
Of lily and of rose,
And organs made sweet thunder
While men forgave their foes.

CHARLES EUGENE BANKS.

A Mystery Explained.
Although her Easter bonnet cost
A fortune in this way,
How could it be so light
Not to be crossed,
Nor had a word to say,
I know you'll think this is a lie,
It's hard to overcome,
Until you know the reason why;
Her husband—he was dumb.

N. Y. World.

NOTICE.

All persons having claims against the estate of Margaret K. Bibb, deceased, will present them to me properly proven before me at my office, 106 Wall Street, New York, on or before the 1st of May, 1869.

WALLACE E. ARNON,
Attm'r with Will Annexed.

Meet all Trains night and day. Patrons taken to any part of town Free of Charge.

Good Livery Attached. Fare of Hotel $2.00 per day.

A. H. BASTIN, Prop.

LOST! [REDACTED] On Milledgeville and Stanford busines notes and receipts. Please return to Interior Journal office or to E. W. Lawless, Teaterville, Garrard County, Ky.

HIDES. I will take all the hides I can get for cash or in trade for leather on court days at Stanford or at my home in Orlene, Chas. Ennsin.

WANTED, ALL THE WOOL
In Lincoln County. Money and sacks ready. Price no object. All I ask is a chance at it. You will lose money if you sell before seeing me or one of my agents. Call on E. O. Singleton, Turnersville; John Ellis, Hustonville; King & Pruitt, Moreland; Josiah Bishop at his home; Wm. J. McKinney, Mt. Salem; J. M. Durham, Middleburg, or myself at McKinney.

F. M. WARE.

THE LADIES

ARE.....

CORDIALLY : INVITED

To call and examine my Spring Millinery, which I am opening up. I pride myself that it is well-selected and that it is bound to please. Having been in the trade, I am determined to sell for cash, I can sell at the lowest possible prices. An examination will convince you.

MRS. A. MCKINNEY.

TO THE LADIES!

My Millinery Stock is full and complete. Call and examine and you will be sure to buy a new Spring Hat.

MISS LICCIE BEAZLEY,
Stanford, Ky.

SPRING AND SUMMER.

Something to Beautify the Ladies.

Daily opening. New Hats, flowers and lace. We give the assurance in the trade that this will find in our establishment the same exclusiveness in style of patterns, hats and bonnets and all the leading novelties in Millinery for which we are known throughout the country.

I have secured a special trimmer for the season. Thanking you for past favors, we respectfully solicit your patronage heretofore so liberally best-wed.

M. D. DUDDERAR.
KATE DUDDERAR, Manager.

F. M. WARE.

Fontaine Fox BOBBITT.

—Fifty citizens of Edmonson county,

among them a Baptist preacher, were arrested for tearing down a house occupied by depraved women. The Commonwealth failed to make out a case against the citizens, although they acknowledged what they had done.

—Gov. Brown has pardoned Grant Carnett, who was convicted in Letcher county and sent to the penitentiary for three years for bigamy. Carnett was not guilty of the crime, the Governor having ascertained beyond doubt that he was divorced from his first wife before marrying the second.

DR. L. B. COOK,

Stanford, Ky.

Office Up Stairs; First Door East of McRoberts' Drug Store.

YOUNG

Ladies Exchange

EVERYTHING

Good to Eat.

Candy, Pop Corn Balls, Egg-Kisses, Cakes, Beaten Biscuit, Salads, etc., etc.

OPEN

Every : Saturday,

In Mr. R. Williams' store-room,

Opposite the St. Asaph Hotel.

Orders gladly received and promptly filled.

Have just received a full line of

Oliver's Chilled and Bucher & Gibbs' Imperial Chilled and Steel Plows

And REPAIRS. Full line of chains, collars, bridles, &c., in stock. Farmers needing any goods in this line are invited to call and examine our goods before purchasing.

W. E. PERKINS, Crab Orchard.

A COURT DAY TRAGEDY!

Severance & Son Are the Accused.

We are informed by those who know that they

Cut the Life Out

Of prices. The reason they give for this conduct is that they sell for CASH and are willing to ### HELP!

Their customers save money by dividing the profits. This is a universal cut, each department suffers. Come and see our carpets, dry goods and shoes.

SEVERANCE & SON.

Furniture, Undertaking,

Picture Frames, Window Shades, Wall Paper, Carpet Paper.

D can't Fail to See Our Window Shades.

Our Folding Beds are fine, substantial and cheap.

We Beat In Low Prices

And must sell the goods. Give us a call.

WITHERS & HOCKER.

READ THIS & SAVE MONEY.

I will furnish any of the following machines at prices named below and give the Interior Journal one year free with each order.

The New Home, style two, $23. The New Home, style three, $25.

The New Home, style five, $28.

All made by the New Home Sewing Machine Co. are warranted for five years. I have the following Pianos and Organs, which I will sell at prices proportionately low as the above Sewing Machines are offered:

PIANOS:

Chickering, Hazelton, Bush & Gerts, Colby & Co., Kingsbury, Summer, Kimball